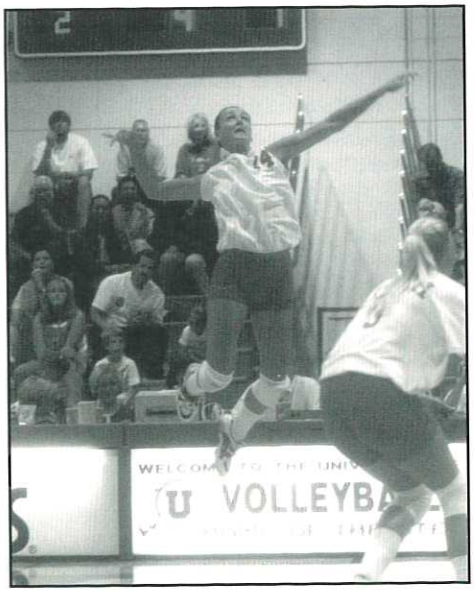
Utah Volleyball Takes Charge At The Net

With Five Starters and Twelve Letterwinners Returning, The Utes Should Prove To Be A Powerful Force In 2000

The Utah women's volleyball program made unprecedented strides last season. The Utes made their second consecutive appearance in the NCAA Tournament and once again advanced to the second round. With a 22-10 overall record, Utah posted 20 wins for the fourth straight year and the fifth time in its history. The 1999 season held many impressive accomplishments for the Utes. Records were broken, goals and expectations were met and greater challenges set for 2000. This year's squad is ready to take those new goals and expectations to lift the Utah volleyball program to the next level.

With five starters, 12 letterwinners and a redshirt freshman returning, along with the addition of three top-notch newcomers, the Utes believe they will contend for the Mountain West Conference Championship in 2000. Recent history proves the Utah squad keeps getting better and better, and after the 1999 season, the nation is taking notice. Utah received 31 votes to rank 29th in the season end USA Today/AVCA Top 25 Poll. Utah's final RPI ranking, produced by the NCAA, was 22nd.



Brooke Barton

"I think 1998 legitimized our program, and last year solidified it as one of the top teams in the country," commented Head Coach Beth Launiere. It also allowed us to have a plateau to work from again, and obviously it's a higher plateau than from two years ago."

"Our biggest strength this season will be our depth. At almost every position, we go two to three deep. I feel just as comfortable with our backups in the game as our starters. In fact, I think we'll see a lot of people playing and that is going to be huge," says Launiere.

The Utes lost only one letterwinner, starting setter Graciela Torres-Lopez, from last year's team. It may seem like a weakness for the Utes to lose their four year starting setter, but Launiere thinks differently.

"Graciela ran the offense for us for the past four years and knew our system extremely well. Her competitive drive, physical strength and experience will be missed, but I also have tremendous confidence in Lucie Turková. Lucie has proven herself for three years as a competent setter at this level. She is extremely experienced and has a lot of qualities — like her quickness — that are exceptional," says Launiere.

Outside Hitters

With the return of six seasoned outside hitters, a redshirt freshman and one newcomer, the Utes don't have to worry about finding someone to play, but rather how to get them all playing time.

Returning starter and second team MWC defensive specialist Brooke Barton should once again step up to her role.

"Brooke Barton is extremely experienced as a passer, defensive player and an outside hitter. She is also a huge leader for us and I couldn't think of a better person to put my team in the hands of," says Launiere.

Jen Snow-Richards brings three years of experience within the Utah system to the outside hitter position.

"Jen has been a part-time starter for us since her freshman year. While she's never been on the court all the time, she's been on the court a lot of the time. She really stepped it up for us at the end of last season and this past spring. I expect some really good things from Jen," says Launiere.

Alisa Geddes and Adrianne Bradley-Drake played important roles for Utah in 1999, but both had shoulder surgery after the season and were unable to participate in spring ball.

"Alisa and Adrianne are our primary passers and our best defensive players," says Launiere. Both players gained a tremendous amount of experience last year. Their swing may be in question after having the shoulder surgeries, but they will see court time because they are very valuable to us."

Lenka Urbanová, a 6-1 junior from the Czech Republic, made great strides and earned a starting position at the end of last season.

"Lenka became very valuable to us last year because of her ability to play many positions. Her passing became very important and she give us tons of versatility on the court," says Launiere.

Amber Fish saw limited time last year, but improved over the spring season, giving the Utes some extra depth at the outside hitter position.

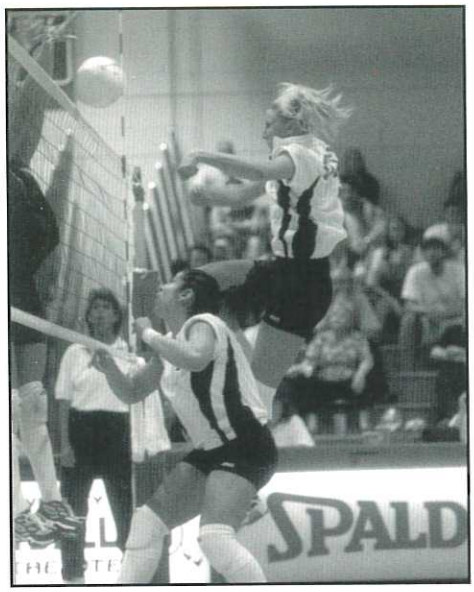
"Amber is a hard worker and understands her role on the team. Her blocking really improved in the spring. We put her on the right side and I anticipate using her there when needed," says Launiere.

Tara Henriksen is a redshirt freshman with a bright future.

"Tara is probably one of the most hard working kids I've ever coached. She expects a lot out of herself and I can't keep her out of the gym," says Launiere.

Middle Blockers

Utah is deep and experienced at the net, where the Utes return four veteran middle blockers and bring in one freshman.



McKelle Stilson

McKelle Stilson anchored the middle in 1999 and Launiere sees more of the same ahead in the upcoming year.

"McKelle established herself as one of the best middle blockers in the conference last year, and I think she needs to start looking at what level she can go to next," says Launiere. She needs to push herself to that realm and we're going to challenge her to do that."

Brenda Beal is another player capable of improving on her impressive numbers from last year. Beal, a sophomore played on an international 20-and-under team in Italy this past summer.

"Brenda is our best and biggest athlete, and is versatile as well," says Launiere. We moved her to the left side in the spring, a totally new position for her, and she did very well there. She handled the pressures throughout last season as a freshman better than I anticipated. Mentally, I feel she can handle being a 'go to' player for us."

Katrena Ellett, like Beal, proved herself as a freshman in 1999.

"Katrena exceeded our expectations and handled pressure situations without any problems last season. She is our most competitive player and is not afraid to step up to any challenge. Katrena has the ability to play a lot of different positions and that is a real big asset for us," says Launiere.

Megan Anderson, who has struggled through ongoing shoulder problems, still plans to be a factor in 2000.The injuries forced her to develop other strengths in her game.

"Megan was a legitimate middle blocker for us before she got injured again last season," says Launiere. She has a tremendous amount of competitiveness and poise. If she can play front row, she'll be very valuable for us. She gained a lot of experience in defense and passing last season, and I think she'll find a way to have a role on the court."

One of Volleyball Magazine's Fab 50 high school recruits, newcomer Kim Turner, is expected to make an immediate impact at the middle blocker position.

"Kim is one of the biggest recruits we've ever landed at Utah in terms of high school and club team accolades, so that is a good thing for our program," says Launiere. She is very talented and I anticipate that she will play right away."

Defensive Specialists

One returner and one newcomer will round out the rotation in the back row.

Walk-on Jade Millo saw limited time last year. Her role will remain a defensive specialist.

"Jade improved her passing in the spring and worked really hard at it. That is going to help her playing time this year," says Launiere.

Newcomer Taryn Horner will also vie for time as a defensive specialist in 2000.

"Taryn comes to us from Hawaii and is genuinely excited to come and play for the Utes," says Launiere. You can never have enough of those type of kids in your program and we're excited to have her."

Setters

Utah lost its all-time assists leader in four-year starter Torres-Lopez. Although Turková was the back-up and has not been a starter at the setter position for Utah, she has gained a tremendous amount of experience over the past three years and will run the offense for the Utes in 2000.

"I think we're in great hands with Lucie. She runs the offense well, she is quick, she has good defensive skills and is a positive influence," says Launiere.

Jackie Morrill, a 1999 Utah High School Coaches Association MVP, will backup Turková at the setting position.

"Jackie is also a very good passer and defensive player," says Launiere.

The Schedule

Utah will have its hands full in the early part of the season with some very tough non-conference competition. Utah's 2000 schedule features nine matches against seven teams that competed in the 1999 NCAA Tournament. The Utes will face Stanford, San Diego, Cal Poly, Temple and Arizona in non-conference competition, and Brigham Young and Colorado State twice each in MWC play.

Utah travels to the East Coast Sept. 1-2 to take part in the New Hampshire Tournament. The Utes open up at home against No. 2 Stanford on Sept. 5 and hit the road Sept. 8-9 to play in the Cal Poly Tournament in San Luis Obispo, Calif. Utah plays host to Temple on Sept. 15 and Arizona on Sept. 16 before opening MWC play on Sept. 22 against San Diego State.

"I feel very good about our schedule," says Launiere. I think it stacks up with the scheduling over the past few years in terms of toughness and competitiveness. It is the perfect balance. It is a strong schedule, but it still allows us to go after our 20 wins and have a very successful season."

Beth Launiere

11th Season, 180-138 (.566)

Beth Launiere has not only resurrected the Ute volleyball program and turned it into a consistent winner, she has also guided Utah to unprecedented success on the national level.

Under Launiere's leadership, Utah made its second consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance in 1999, and for a second year advanced to the second round. It is the crowning achievement of Launiere's ten-year tenure at Utah, in which she has posted a 180-138 (.566) career record.

The winningest coach in school history, Launiere has overseen a significant transformation since her arrival in 1990. In the last six years alone, Launiere has guided the Utes to five 20-win seasons and Utah's third-place finish in the MWC in 1999 marked its seventh consecutive upper division finish in conference play.

Launiere worked hard in 1999 to maintain the level of play and expectations of the previous season. With a 22-10 overall record, Utah posted its fourth consecutive, and fifth overall, 20-win season. The Utes' .688 overall winning percentage equaled the third-best in school history. Utah also equaled the third-best conference winning percentage in school history last season (10-4, .714). Utah received 31 votes to rank 29th in the final USA Today/AVCA Top 25 Poll. Utah's final RPI ranking, produced by the NCAA, was 22nd.

In many ways, 1998 was an important milestone during Launiere's tenure on the Hill. The Utes made it to the second round in their first-ever NCAA Tournament appearance. Launiere was later honored with the U.'s Don Reddish Coach of the Year award. Utah posted a 21-10 record against a schedule featuring nine teams that made the NCAA Tournament. The Utes' .677 overall winning percentage equaled the third-best in school history. Utah also matched its best-ever winning percentage in WAC play (.643) and finished 9-5, good enough for third place in the Pacific Division. For the third year in a row, Utah advanced to the quarterfinals of the WAC Tournament. The Utes also set the school single-season record for attendance by averaging 652 fans over 10 home contests, breaking the former best average mark by nearly 70 fans.

In 1997, Launiere's Utes posted the best overall season winning percentage in school history (.710) by going 22-9, as well as the second-best winning percentage in WAC play (.643) with a 9-5 mark, to place fourth in the Mountain Division. In a season full of highlights, the Utes tied the longest winning streak in the school annals with 11 wins from Sept. 6 through Oct. 2. Utah also equaled its best start to the WAC season, winning its first three matches and going 5-2 through the first half of the league schedule.

Launiere surpassed the 100-career victory plateau in 1996 with a 3-0 win over Utah State on Sept. 20. The Utes went 20-12 overall in 1996 and amassed the most wins ever in WAC play with a 10-6 record to place third in the Mountain Division.

In 1995, Utah appeared in the national poll voting and defeated a ranked opponent for the first time. Two other milestones were surpassed in '93, when Utah posted a 25-win season and was extended a postseason bid to the National Invitational Volleyball Championship.

To fully appreciate what Launiere has accomplished, one must reflect on where she began. The season prior to Launiere's arrival, Utah compiled a 1-32 record. In her first season at the helm in 1990, Launiere coached the Utes to six more wins than were recorded the previous year, and instilled a new competitive attitude in the program. The instantaneous improvement enabled Launiere to elevate the level of play and bring excitement and fan support back to Utah volleyball.

In Launiere's second season, Utah more than doubled its win total again, going 15-20. In only her third season, she won 18 games—the first winning season in seven years—and opened the door to many of the milestones since reached.

The 1993 Utes produced the school's most successful campaign ever, going 25-11 and placing fourth in the WAC. Utah also earned its first postseason berth, placing third in the NIVC. Both the Utes as a team, and senior Mikki Kane-Barton, led the nation in blocks—a first for any WAC team.

In 1994, Launiere won her 81st career match at Utah and became the winningest coach in school history. The Utes were invited to participate in the NIVC for a second-consecutive year, but declined to participate.

The '95 Utes placed fourth in the WAC with a 7-7 record. Included in a 3-0 start to the conference season was a shutout of No. 16 Brigham Young, which marked Utah's first defeat of a nationally ranked opponent in a decade. The all-time single-season attendance record was broken, with more than 8,200 fans flocking to Crimson Court.

Most of the biggest names in Utah volleyball have played for Launiere. Brenda Barton-Whicker (1994-97) was the first player in school history to be named an AVCA District VII All-American in '95. She finished her career as Utah's all-time leader in kills, attempts, digs and service aces. Graciela Torres-Lopez (1996-99) took over as the Utes' all-time leader in career assists at the end of the 1998 season. Sara Shakula, who finished her career in 1998, is second all-time in kills. Former assistant coach Linda Byington (1990-91) is Utah's all-time leader in hitting efficiency. Mikki Kane-Barton (1992-93) is second all-time in blocks at the U. Katie Tagge (1993-95), ranks third on the all-time assists chart. Launiere's latest prodigy, junior McKelle Stilson is third in all-time hitting efficiency.

Launiere gained coaching experience on the international level in the summer of 1996, taking the USA All-Star Team on a two week tour of England. The team, consisting of 14-17 year-old girls, was sponsored by the USA Volleyball Youth Developmental Program. Launiere is also in her fifth year as a member of the AVCA All-America Committee.

Prior to coming to Utah, the Grand Rapids, Mich., native spent two successful seasons (1988-89) as an assistant coach at the University of Illinois. The Fightin' Illini went to two NCAA Tournaments, advanced to the 1988 Final Four and posted a 57-12 record during Launiere's stay.

As an assistant at Ferris State (Mich.) from 1985-87, Launiere helped guide the Bulldogs to three postseason appearances and a berth in the 1987 NCAA Division II Final Four.

Launiere is a 1985 graduate of Aquinas College (Mich.), where she earned a bachelor's degree in business administration and economics. She also has a master's in sports administration from Illinois.

The 37-year-old Launiere is the fifth coach in 25 years at Utah and has a tenure longer than any of her predecessors.

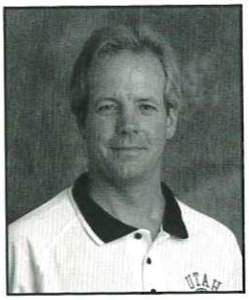
Assistant Coaches



Cory Solomon
5th Season

A veteran coach at the college, high school and junior club levels, Cory Solomon enters his third season as the first assistant coach at the University of Utah. Solomon's primary responsibilities include coordinating the Utes' recruiting efforts, team travel, opponent scouting and video editing, as well as on-court instruction.

For the past two summers, Solomon has taken his coaching expertise to the international level. This past summer, Solomon coached a 20 and under team in an international tournament in Italy. Two Summers ago, he coached the High Performance U.S. National Development Team that toured Europe for two weeks. The team, consisting of 14-17 year-old girls, was sponsored by the USA Volleyball Youth Development Program.

Solomon was with the Ute volleyball staff as a volunteer coach from 1996-97 and briefly held the second assistant's position during the latter part of '97 season. Solomon was an assistant coach for four years at Taylorsville High School (1992-95) and coached 11 years with the Twin Peaks Junior Olympic Boys' Club.

At the junior club level, Solomon has worked with nine players who are playing at the Division I collegiate level. Among those are Tim Jensen, who is at the University of Pacific, and Tory Tukafu, who plays for the Hawai'i men's team. Jensen, a member of the U.S. Junior Youth National Team, and Tukafu were named All-Americans at the U.S. Junior Olympic Boys' Championships in the summer of 1996. Solomon also coached Lance Sorenson who currently plays for Pepperdine. Solomon's boys' club team finished in the top 10 three times at the Southern California regional tournament, and placed seventh at the 1997 U.S. Junior Olympic tournament.

Solomon graduated Cum Laude from the University of Utah in 1988 with a bachelor of science degree in physics. He received his teaching certificate in secondary education. The 38-year-old Solomon resides in Salt Lake City.

Zuzana Zikova
1st Season

An active player and coach from Ostrava, Czech Republic, Zuzana Zikova enters her first season as an assistant coach at the University of Utah. In addition to on-court instruction, Zikova's primary duties include videotape editing, compilation of statistics and assisting in the Utes' recruiting efforts.

Zikova started playing volleyball in the Czech Republic at age 10. She played for a youth club team, NH Ostrava, from 1983 to 1991. Zikova also played for the Czech Republic's Youth National Volleyball Team from 1988 to 1992. From 1991 to 1994, Zikova played for the SKUP Olomouc team at the University of Palacky. The SKUP Olomouc team won the Czech Republic Volleyball Championships in 1993 and '94. In 1994, Zikova moved to Germany and played two years for TV Dingolfing, which also won the Division Championships in 1995. Zikova played for another German team, VSV RR Vilsbiburg in 1996. She also played in the German Beach Volleyball Championships, where she was ranked No. 12 in 1996, No. 5 in 1997 and No. 9 in 1998.

Zikova began her coaching career in 1996, working with a youth club team, VSV RR Visbiburg, and working with 9-to-13 year olds. In 1999, she coached theVilsbiburg's youth men's beach volleyball team. Most recently, she coached a group of 12-year old girls and boys at Munich High School in Germany.

Zikova graduated with her master's degree in Sports and English from the University of Palacky in 1998. She has been working on her Ph.D. at the Technical University in Munich, Germany. The 27-year-old Zikova resides in Salt Lake City.

Amanda Van Schalkwyk
Volunteer Assistant
1st Season

Amanda Van Schalkwyk is in her first year as a volunteer assistant with the University of Utah's women's volleyball team.

Van Schalkwyk received her bachelor's degree in human development and family studies from Utah in 1997. She played for the U. from 1994-1996 and was named "most inspirational" her senior season. Van Schalkwyk is currently 10th on Utah's all-time career leaders list with a .232 hitting efficiency.

Van Schalkwyk is the co-founder of WVS Volleyball Club, and has taken part in the administrative side of things for the past three years. She coached the Utah Juniors Volleyball Club in 1995 and was a graduate assistant coach at the U. in 1997. Van Schalkwyk was an assistant coach at Viewmont High School in 1998 and has coached the WVS Volleyball Club for the past five years.

Van Schalkwyk continues to play competitively and recently won the Salt Lake City Classic Open Division Tournament. She is currently employed by Zion Securities Corporation. The 25-year-old Van Schalkwyk resides in Salt Lake City with her husband Warren.

Mary Bowman

Assistant A.D. for Student-Athlete Support Services

Mary Bowman is in her fifth year as Utah's assistant athletic director of student-athlete support services. Bowman oversees the areas of academic advising, career planning and placement, sports medicine, strength training and conditioning and the NCAA CHAMPS/Life Skills Program.

The Iowa native came to the U. with previous experience in those areas. She was involved in ACT testing and training programs, and educating high school students in alcohol and drug peer leadership. Bowman has prior athletic experience as well. She was a teacher and volleyball coach at Eagle Valley High School (Colo.), where she was named coach of the year in 1977. Later she held a similar position at East High School in Salt Lake.

Bowman received her bachelor's degree from Northern Colorado in 1970 and a master's degree in educational psychology from the U. in 1998. She and her husband, John, have two sons: J.J. (24) and Chris (18).

Claudia Wilson

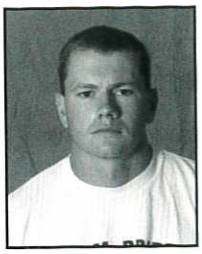
Nutrition Consultant

Claudia Wilson is in her third year as the nutrition consultant for the Utah volleyball team. Wilson also serves as a sports nutrition consultant and clinical dietician for the University of Utah Nutrition Clinic and all of the U.'s athletic teams.

Wilson, MS, RD, specializes in sports nutrition, female athlete triad disorders and eating disorders. She has conducted research in the area of the female athlete triad.

Wilson provides individual and group counseling for high school and college athletes, as well as the general public. She also serves as a guest lecturer for various University of Utah academic courses and presents nutrition seminars to college, national and professional sports teams. Her audiences have included the U.S. National Track & Field Team, University of Notre Dame and Ballet West Company.

A registered dietitian, Wilson is also a member of the American Dietetics Association and Sports, Cardiovascular and Wellness Nutritionists (SCAN), an ADA practice group. She received her bachelor's degree in public health from West Chester University (Pa.) in 1992 and her master's in foods and nutrition from Utah in 1997. Claudia and her husband David have three sons: Daxton, Traeden and MacIntyre.



Jason Veltkamp

Strength Coach

Jason Veltkamp is in his second year at the U. as the assistant director of strength and conditioning. Veltkamp received his bachelor's degree in sports management from Carroll College in Helena, Mont., in 1996, and his master's in exercise and sport science from Utah State in 1998.

Veltkamp, an NCSA certified strength and conditioning specialist, is currently the Utah state director of the National Strength and Conditioning Association. His major responsibilities with the Utah women's volleyball program include developing and implementing year-round strength, speed, agility and endurance programs with a preseason emphasis on agility and endurance conditioning.

Veltkamp was a graduate assistant strength and conditioning coach while working on his master's at Utah State from 1997-98. He was the strength and conditioning coordinator for the Helena (Mont.) ice hockey team from 1996-97.

Veltkamp and his wife Kristen reside in Salt Lake City.

A.J. Hansen

Graduate Assistant/Volleyball Trainer

A.J. Hansen is in her first year at the U. as graduate assistant volleyball trainer. Hansen received her bachelor's degree in athletic training from Wingate University in Wingate, N.C., in May 2000.

Hansen worked as a student athletic trainer at Wingate University from 1996-99. She was the head football student athletic trainer in 1999 and in charge of the prevention, recognition, evaluation, and immediate care of athletic injuries. She was an assistant softball student athletic trainer in 1999 and an assistant men's and women's swim student athletic trainer from 1997-1998.

Hansen is certified as an American Red Cross Professional Rescuer. She is certified by the American Red Cross in CPR as well as First Aid. Hansen has been a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association since 1999. At Wingate, Hansen was a member of the Sports Medicine Club and the Sports Science Club. She was also very active in many community service projects in the Wingate, N.C. area.

Director of Athletics

Dr. Chris Hill
Athletics Director

Dr. Chris Hill, Utah's director of athletics and special assistant to the president of the University of Utah, has made Utah athletics a national player since taking the reins in 1987. Hill, who was just 37 years old when he was named director of athletics, has administered the U. athletics program through the most successful period in its history. Under his direction, Utah athletic teams have achieved unprecedented success, both on the competitive field and in the classroom.

Hill's vision reaches beyond the athletics department. In 1998, he was named special assistant to U. president Dr. Bernie Machen. On a national level, Hill is a sought after committee member. He served as the NCAA appointed chairman of the powerful Championships/Competition Cabinet from 1997-98. He now serves as the Mountain West Conference representative on the NCAA Management Council. He is chair of the Management Council's subcommittee on anti trust. He was also chair of the transition committee for the Mountain West Conference, now in its second year of operation.

But Hill's biggest strides have come on the U. campus, where his tenure has been charged with capital improvements, an emphasis on student-athlete welfare and academics, the hiring of nationally-respected coaches, and winning programs.

Hill was the driving force behind an athletics corridor on the U. campus that now features numerous national caliber varsity athletics facilities. The cornerstone is Rice-Eccles Stadium, a beautiful $50 million, 45,634-seat structure that opened in 1998. Other results of Hill's fund-raising include the Dumke Gymnastics Center, George S. Eccles Tennis Facility, Dee Glen Smith Athletics Center, Thomas Kearns McCarthey Practice Field (football), Ute Softball Field, Ute Baseball Field, Crimson Court (volleyball), Ute Soccer Field, Kenneth P. Burbidge Jr. Family Athletics Academic Center and a bubbled indoor practice structure.

Off the playing field, Hill has beefed up the budget for academic support and the new Kenneth P. Burbidge Jr. Family Athletics Academic Center will compare with the finest in the nation when it opens for business in January. He hired a director for student-athlete support services and she has implemented an award-winning Life Skills program.

All 19 of Utah's sports, many of whose coaches were hired by Hill, have benefitted from his leadership. Utah has been a dominant program in the conference during Hill's 12 years and many of its teams compete at a national level. One of the many highlights (see inset) was a trip to the finals of the NCAA Men's Basketball Championship in 1998, where Utah finished second to Kentucky. During his tenure, Utah has also captured multiple national championships in gymnastics and skiing, and the football team has appeared in five of the school's eight all-time bowl games. A leader in its conference, Utah teams won the "big three" championships in their inaugural year as Mountain West Conference members in 1999-2000: The football, men's and women's basketball teams all won or tied for their respective conference titles and all three advanced to postseason play.

Hill became athletics director after two years as the athletic department's fund-raiser (1985-87). As director of development, he instigated tremendous growth and overhauled the Crimson Club. The New Jersey native first came to the U. as a graduate assistant basketball coach (1973-74) under Bill Foster. He was an assistant from 1979-81 for Jerry Pimm.

Between his two stints with Utah athletics, Hill was executive director of United Cerebral Palsy of Utah (1981-85), where he helped raise $750,000 in federal, state and private funding to develop a housing project for people with severe handicaps. In 1996, Hill was named the Utah MS Sportsperson of the Year. In 1984, Hill received an Outstanding Service Award from the Utah Recreation Therapy Association. He won a Milton Bennion Fellowship in 1981. In 1998, he was inducted into the Jersey Shore Hall of Fame. He currently serves on the Regence BlueCross BlueShield Board of Directors.

As an undergraduate, Hill lettered three years and was co-captain of the 1971-72 Rutgers basketball team. He holds a bachelor's degree in mathematics from Rutgers (1972), a master's in education (Utah, 1974), and a Ph.D. in educational administration (Utah, 1982). Hill taught in the University's special education department from 1983-85. He coached boys basketball at Granger High (Utah) from 1975-79, winning 4A coach of the year his first year.

Hill, 50, is married to the former Kathy Cronin–a clinical instructor in the U. special education department. They have two children: Aly (22) and Christopher (18). Aly played varsity soccer for Oregon.

Amy Hackett

Associate Athletics Director

Amy Hackett, a 16-year veteran of athletic administration, is in her fifth year as associate athletics director at the University of Utah.

Hackett came to Utah in the summer of 1996 from Santa Clara University, where she served as associate athletics director and senior woman administrator from 1990-96, and was the acting director of athletics in the summer of 1992. She held the position of Broncos' assistant athletics director for marketing and promotions from 1986-90. At Utah, Hackett is responsible for 15 of Utah's 19 sports. She also oversees the compliance, financial aid, eligibility, business office and events coordinating areas. She, along with Utah Athletics Director Dr. Chris Hill, represents the U. at Mountain West Conference and NCAA meetings.

Hackett was recently appointed to the NCAA Minority Opportunities and Interests Committee. She served on the NCAA Division I Women's Soccer Committee from 1993-99 and was the committee chair from 1998-99. Hackett is currently an at-large representative of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) Executive Committee. Her term runs through June 2002.

At Santa Clara, Hackett was involved in virtually all of the areas she now oversees at the U. She was also director of the West Coast Conference Men's and Women's Basketball Tournament: the men's in 1991 and from 1994-96, and women's from 1992-96. She served on the Advisory Task Force on Women's Issues from 1992-95.

Hackett was the ticket manager for the Nashville Sounds AA Baseball Club in 1983 and 1984, and was a marketing assistant at the University of Virginia in 1986. Hackett graduated from Oregon State in 1983 with a degree in physical education (athletic administration emphasis). She earned a master's degree in sports administration from Ohio in 1986.

Utah Volleyball Reaches Another Level In 1999

Utes Make Their Second Consecutive NCAA Tournament Appearance

A young and inexperienced Utah volleyball team quickly found its own identity in 1999. Utah made its second consecutive appearance in the NCAA Tournament, and as in 1998, advanced to the second round. The Utes, seeded No. 9 in the Mountain Region, defeated eighth-seeded Colorado in three games (15-10, 15-6, 17-15) in the first round and lost to top-seeded Hawaii in three games (15-11, 15-6, 15-4) in the second round at the sub regional in Honolulu.

"I think 1998 legitimized our program, and last year solidified it as one of the top teams in the country," commented head coach Beth Launiere. It also allowed us to have a plateau to work from again, and obviously it's a higher plateau than from two years ago."

With a 22-10 overall record, Utah posted 20 wins for the fourth straight year and the fifth time in its history. The Utes' .688 overall winning percentage equaled the third-best in school history. Utah also equaled the third-best conference winning percentage in school history (.714) last season with a 10-4 mark. The Utes finished third in the MWC, marking its fifth consecutive upper-division finish in conference play. Utah received 31 votes to rank 29th in the final USA Today/AVCA Top 25 Poll. The final RPI ranking produced by the NCAA had Utah as 22nd in the nation and the Mountain West Conference as the third-best league.

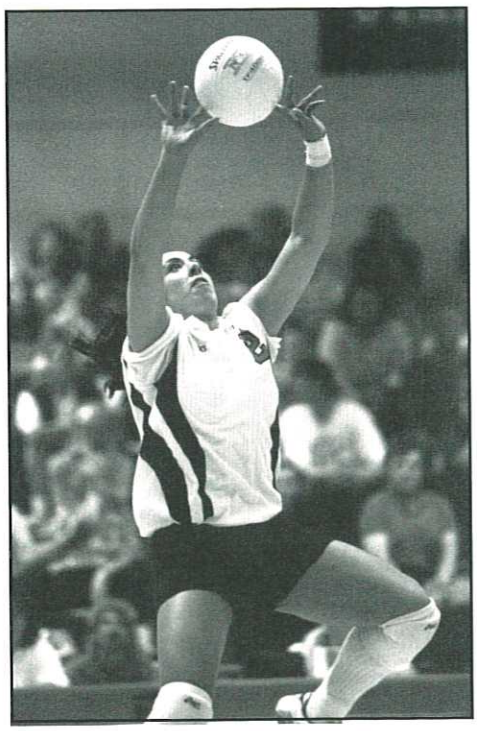
"I had no idea how well we would do, going into the season with eight newcomers, but the team came together as a group incredibly well for so many new people," says Launiere. "Everyone accepted their roles and we gelled together as a group. Those are all the intangible things that it takes to accomplish what we accomplished last year. We weren't sure how we were going to win, but we all had confidence that we would find a way to win."

Leading the way was starting setter Graciela Torres-Lopez.

"Graciela ran the offense for us for four straight years and knew our system extremely well," says Launiere. Her competitive drive, physical strength and experience will be missed."

Torres-Lopez graduated from the Utah program after posting some remarkable career numbers from 1996-99. She ranks number one in career assists with 5,130. Torres-Lopez also left her mark in the Utah record books as the single-match leader in assists in three games (51), and is listed four times in the individual season records section. She was a second-team all-MWC selection and ranked among the MWC top 10 individual leaders in hitting percentage and assists.

Utah participated in three tournaments that featured Top-25 competition, as well as top region teams. The Utes won the Texas Tech Four Points Sheraton Classic at Lubbock, Texas, on Sept. 3-4. They virtually swept the competition, winning three out of the four matches 3-0. Utah defeated SMU (3-0), Wright State (3-0), North Carolina State (3-1), and host Texas Tech (3-0). A week later, Utah captured third place at the State Farm Illini Classic in Champaign, Ill., Sept. 10-11. The Utes lost a heartbreaker to Georgia, 3-2, but bounced back the next day to defeat George Mason in three games, to secure a third-place finish. At the Pac 10/Mountain West Conference Challenge, Utah lost to Stanford, 3-0 and defeated California , 3-1, at Palo Alto, Calif., Sept. 24-25.



Graciela Torres-Lopez

Utah won its first four conference matches of the 1999 season. They finished their conference schedule 10-4, suffering losses only to No. 12 Colorado State and No. 13 Brigham Young. At the inaugural Mountain West Conference Tournament, the Utes lost to Colorado State in the semi-finals, 3-2. Utah was one of three MWC teams to received a bid to the NCAA Tournament, and the second Ute team to do so

All but one loss was to Top-25 teams. Nine of Utah's wins came in three games, 10 were in four games and three wins came in five games. Four of Utah's 10 losses came in five games.

The Utes piled up numerous honors along the way. Utah had four players selected as members of the inaugural all-Mountain West Conference team. Sophomore middle blocker McKelle Stilson was a first-team selection. Along with Torres-Lopez, sophomore outside hitter Alisa Geddes was a second-team pick and junior Brook Barton was named the second-team defensive specialist. Stilson was also an all-MWC Tournament selection. Jennifer Snow-Richards, Lucie Turková, Megan Anderson, Brenda Beal, Barton and Stilson earned academic all-MWC honors in 1999.

Utah ranked 29th in the nation in home match attendance, drawing 9,234 fans for an average of 770 fans per match.

Steve Lowe Award 1993

On its way to placing third at the 1993 National Invitational Volleyball Championship, Utah earned the Steve Lowe Award, embodying competitive excellence, inspiration and fair play. The award is named in honor of the former head volleyball coach at Wisconsin, who guided the Badgers to the championship of the inaugural NIVC Tournament in 1989 and died of cancer in 1991.

The University of Utah

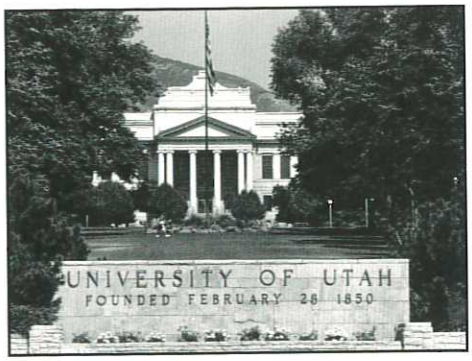
The University of Utah, hub for higher education from the Rockies to the Sierras, boasts an academic reputation that is rivaled only by its breathtakingly gorgeous location. To the east, the 11,000 foot peaks of the Wasatch Mountains are snow-capped billboards for a series of popular ski resorts. To the west, the Great Salt Lake shimmers in the shadow of the Oquirrh Mountains. The campus, itself, is a beautiful 1,500-acre collage of native and exotic trees, fountains, flowering malls and pedestrian walkways, nestled between the Wasatch Range and bustling downtown Salt Lake City.

Already a lively community, the U. will become even more close knit this fall when it makes the transition from commuter to residential campus. The 2000 freshman class will be the first to reside in Heritage Commons, a multi-purpose student housing complex located in historic Fort Douglas on the eastern edge of campus. In 2002, Heritage Commons will serve as the Athletes Village for the Winter Olympic Games, hosted by Salt Lake City.

In addition to a fine academic and housing experience, Utah students enjoy unparalleled outdoor diversions, from skiing at any of eight world-class resorts in nearby canyons, to backpacking, bicycling, fly fishing and river running.

The U.'s location in the largest city in the Intermountain West (population 1,267,745) also provides a metropolitan charm. The 35th largest metro area in the nation, Salt Lake is home to professional symphony, ballet, modern dance, opera and theater companies, as well as the NBA Utah Jazz, WNBA Utah Starzz, Triple A baseball's Salt Lake Buzz and the International Hockey League's Utah Grizzlies.

The University, which offers more than 120 undergraduate degree programs and 93 graduate majors, draws its 25,000-plus student population from all 50 states and 102 foreign countries. Ninety-five percent of Utah's faculty members hold the highest terminal degree in their fields.



Founded in 1850, the U. has established itself as an international center for medical and engineering research. It manages one of the three most successful technology parks in the U.S., with more than 40 new high-tech companies created by University faculty. The Huntsman Cancer Center and the Howard Hughes Medical Institute make Utah the primary research company in the nation for understanding the genetic basis of cancer. Utah is ranked in the top 35 (of 550) research universities in the most recent National Science Foundation rankings. The University frequently ranks first in the nation in number of inventions per million dollars expended for research. Inventions include a wearable kidney, robotic technology and the Utah artificial arm.

Utah is also a hub in the computer world. The Center for High Performance Computing links the U. to major aerospace industries, high-tech manufacturers and research companies. The Department of Computer Science is ranked in the top 20 computer science research departments in the nation. The U. was named one of five finalists in the science category of the 1998 Computerworld Smithsonian Awards. Back in 1970, the U. became the fourth node on the Internet.

The U. has a variety of special undergraduate programs, including the nation's third oldest Honors Program.

Utah's "economic engine," the University of Utah generates nearly $500 million annually in non-tax revenue and is one of the state's largest employers. It has the only medical, social work, architecture and pharmacy schools in a multi-state area. The U.'s many top-flight facilities include a center for dance, a health sciences center, public radio and television stations, three libraries and numerous centers and laboratories devoted to research.

The U. provides a lot of fun, too. Over a million people enjoy the University of Utah's athletic, entertainment and cultural offerings each year. And Utah has earned a reputation as a site of championships in the athletic arena–serving as host to a number of national tournaments, including the 1979 NCAA Basketball Final Four, eight National Women's Gymnastics Championships, three NCAA Ski Championships and two National Women's Tennis Championships.

Celebrities such as director Spike Lee are often featured speakers at on-campus assemblies sponsored by the Association of Students at the University of Utah.

The U.

- Founded in 1850
- 120-plus undergraduate degree programs
- 95-percent of faculty have highest terminal degrees
- Enrollment of 25,803
- Located on 1,500 acres of flowering, tree-lined land
- Backdrop is the 11,000-foot peaks of the Wasatch Mountain Range
- In the nation's top 10 in technology innovation and commercialization
- Number of National Merit Scholars ranks in top 40 nationally
- Undergraduate program ranks 46th in the nation
- Average ACT score for U. freshman is 24.1, compared to 20.8 national average
- Home to national caliber athletic teams, including 10-time national champion gymnastics and ski teams and 1998 NCAA runner-up men's basketball team

Academics and U.

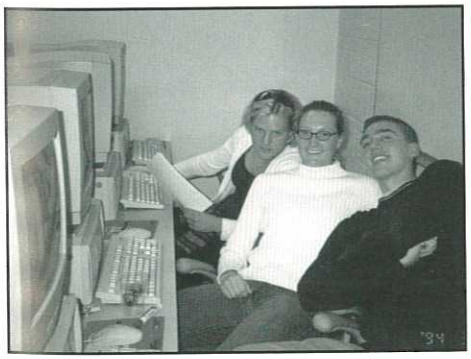
Athletics

The University of Utah enjoys a richly deserved reputation as a top-notch academic institution. For the student-athlete, the U. provides the opportunity for an exceptional academic and athletic experience. The Utah athletic department is committed to providing the means for a quality education to every varsity athlete. With three full-time athletic academic advisors, the U. offers specialized academic counseling for its student-athletes.

Academic coordinator Rob Rainey is in his tenth year at the U. Chris Reilly, a former Ute tennis player, is the third-year football academic specialist. The Ute academic team monitors the studies of each student-athlete to ensure he or she is making progress toward a degree. The academic advisors also dispense their knowledge of departmental and University requirements, and assist with course registration and the exploration and selection of majors.

Student-athlete services take a front seat in all aspects of Utah's approach to athletics. This December, the new Kenneth P. Burbidge Jr. Family Athletics Academic Center will open on campus. It will contain the latest in computer equipment, study and tutor areas, a career resource library, a classroom and offices for the academic counselors and Life Skills program.

Director of Student-Athlete Support Services Mary Bowman makes student-athlete concerns her full-time occupation. She oversees the U. academic team, strength and conditioning operation and medical contingent, as well as programs such as SAMS (Student-Athlete Mentors), SAAC (Student Athlete Advisory Committee) and the Ute Speakers Bureau. Among Director of Athletic Relations Manny Hendrix's duties is managing the Partnering with U. program, which creates career internship and job shadowing opportunities for Utah's student-athletes.



Student-Athlete Computer Facilities

Kenneth P. Burbidge Jr. Family Athletics Academics Center

Ground was broken in the spring for the new Kenneth P. Burbidge Jr. Family Athletics Academic Center. Scheduled to open in mid-December, the center promises to be among the finest of its kind in the nation.

The 10,000 square foot facility will be situated between the Natatorium and the Huntsman Center. Its locale is ideal, as it is central to Utah's classrooms and athletic venues.

The new academic facility, which will serve all 19 varsity Utah athletic teams, was made possible by a generous $2 million gift from the Kenneth P. Burbidge Jr. family. It will consolidate Utah's athletic-academic efforts, both in terms of computer labs and study space and academic counseling.

Among the center's amenities: a career resource center, a lab with 40 computers, tutoring rooms, study tables and a student-athlete lounge with pop-in email computers.

Funds for the purchase of new computers and educational aids for the building were raised by the Crimson Club's "Nothing But Red" auction, held in August of 1999.

The mission of the new Burbidge Family Athletics Academics Center is to provide an integrated learning environment that will enhance the academic and personal development of all student-athletes. The objective is to accommodate the diverse needs and schedules of Utah's student-athletes through a wide range of individual and group support services, computer technologies and independent study opportunities.

Director of Student-Athlete Support Services Mary Bowman and academic services will be housed in the building, as will the award winning Life Skills program.

Burbidge Center Facts

- 10,000 square feet of space
- Lab with 40 computers
- Student-Athlete Lounge with pop-in email computers
- Career Resource Center
- Academic advising and Life Skills staff offices
- Group and one-on-one tutoring rooms
- Large study table area
- Multipurpose room for work shops, seminars, etc.
- Staff conference room

Academics At Utah

Research

The U. is an international center for medical and engineering research, and its genetics research ranks among the world's best. The U. is one of the top 10 most successful universities in technology innovation and commercialization.

Technology

The U. manages one of the three most successful technology parks in the U.S., with more than 40 new high-tech companies created by University faculty. The Huntsman Cancer Center and the Howard Hughes Medical Institute make Utah the primary research company in the nation for understanding the genetic basis of cancer.

Scholarship

The average ACT score for U. freshmen is 24, compared to the national average of 21. The number of National Merit Scholars at Utah ranks in the top 40 nationally. The Honors Program is the third-oldest.

Faculty

95-percent of the faculty have the highest degree in their fields.

Programs

The U. offers more than 120 undergraduate degree programs and 93 graduate majors. Among its colleges are a college of law, medicine and architecture. The Applied Sport Science program offers both masters and doctoral degrees.

Computer Facilities

The new Kenneth P. Burbidge Jr. Family Academics Athletics Center, due to open its doors in December, will feature the latest in computer technology. It will boast a lab with 40 computers, designated solely for varsity athletes. Lap top computers are also available for team travel. One of the first schools to go up on the Internet (in 1970, Utah became the fourth node on the Internet), the U. offers free electronic mail accounts to all students.

Athletic-Academic Programs

Study Table–Required of all freshman athletes their first semester. Open to all athletes, regardless of year or GPA.

Tutorial Program–Individual tutors for any class free of charge.

Testing Center–Offers student-athletes information on possible career choices through the Strong Interest Inventory given to all freshmen in the Life Skills class.

Internships–Athletic academic advisors work closely with the U. Placement and Career Information Center, academic departments and community resources for job and internship placements related to the student's major. The "Partnering with U." program offers career mentoring, shadowing and internship opportunities with area businesses.

Fifth-Year Senior Program–Provides financial assistance to those no longer on athletic scholarship (have finished their four-year athletic career), but who wish to get their degrees.

SAMS, SAAC and Speakers Bureau Programs–The Student-Athlete Mentor program, Student Athlete Advisory Committee and Ute Speakers Bureau provide leadership opportunities for Utah's varsity athletes.

Life Skills Program

At the University of Utah, a student-athlete receives so much more than the chance to participate in a winning program and graduate from a prestigious school. The U. athletics department has a full-time Director of Student-Athlete Support Services, Mary Bowman, whose job is to provide guidance to student-athletes in the areas of career development, academic support, community outreach and personal development. Bowman and her staff help enable Utah's student-athletes to make the most of their undergraduate years, while also interacting with the community and preparing for life after college.

In her quest to provide every student-athlete the necessary skills for success during and after college, Bowman implemented the NCAA CHAMPS/Life Skills Program back in 1996.

U. Student-Athletes Get A Jump On Life

- A full-time Director of Student-Athlete Support Services
- Participation in the NCAA CHAMPS/Life Skills Program
- Career Development and Community Service
- Ute Speakers Bureau
- Workshops in resume writing and interviewing skills
- Seminars on nutrition, stress management and conflict resolution
- Student-Athlete Mentor Program
- Student Athlete Advisory Committee

Bowman and her student-athlete participants have put their personal stamp on the program, an award winner that offers regularly scheduled workshops on topics like resume writing, interviewing skills and transition into the work force. Bowman and Ute Director of Athletic Relations Manny Hendrix have gone a step further with their "Partnering with U." program. That program helps arrange for job shadowing, internships and summer jobs. Beginning this fall, Hendrix and the U. Counseling Center will offer a career and life planning class for student-athletes.

Another important aspect of Utah's Life Skills program is providing Utah student-athletes with opportunities to perform volunteer services within both the University and the community. The Ute Speakers Bureau trains student-athletes in public speaking. They then go out to local elementary and junior high schools in the Salt Lake area, where they speak on such topics as drug abuse, goal setting, the importance of education, making smart choices and self esteem. Last year alone, Utah student-athletes spoke to more than 10,000 students in Salt Lake City. Ute teams also participate in community service projects such as the Special Olympics, LifeCare, Project Youth, the Utah Autism Society, the Utah AIDS Foundation, the Boys and Girls Club and the Utah Chapter for the Prevention of Child Abuse, to name just a few. The Ute athletics department hosted a School Is Cool Jam in April, which attracted 2,200 elementary school children.

The personal development facet of Utah's Life Skills program offers workshops in nutrition, stress management, diversity, eating disorders, relationships, sexual responsibility and conflict resolution.

Also popular with Utah's student-athletes is the Student-Athlete Mentor Program (SAMS). An elected representative from each team participates in SAMS. Those representatives are given formal training by the staff of the U.'s Alcohol and Drug Education Center. SAMS participants relay information on referral services regarding personal issues, including substance abuse, to their teammates, as well as to other athletes. The student organization has been tremendously successful. Utah's SAMS program was the recipient of an NCAA grant in 1997 for its measures against substance abuse. The grant was one of just 15 nationwide awarded by the NCAA CHOICES program. Another program Bowman directs is the Student Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC), which, like SAMS, is comprised of representatives from all of Utah's 19 varsity teams.

The Ute Life Skills program complements the outstanding educational and athletic experience already firmly in place at Utah. At the U., preparing for success after college is a big part of the game plan.

McKelle Stilson and Alisa Geddes participate in the NCAA CHAMPS/Life Skills program.

Megan Anderson, Amber Fish and Alisa Geddes participate in the NCAA CHAMPS/Life Skills program.

Katrena Ellett and Jen Snow-Richards participate in the NCAA CHAMPS/Life Skills program.

Crimson Court

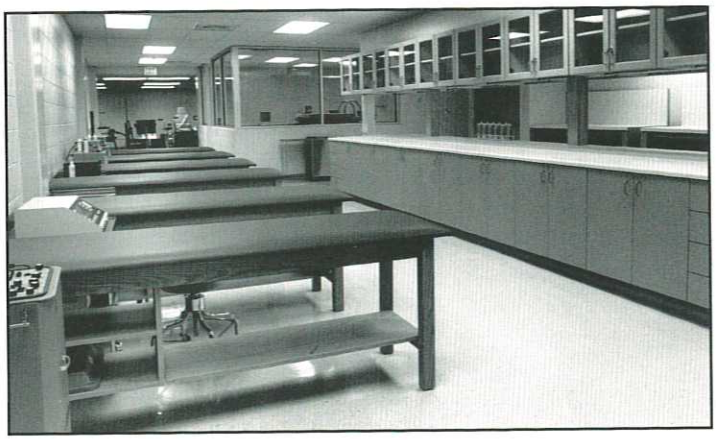
One of the finest volleyball only facilities in the nation, Crimson Court provides a great homecourt environment for Utah volleyball.

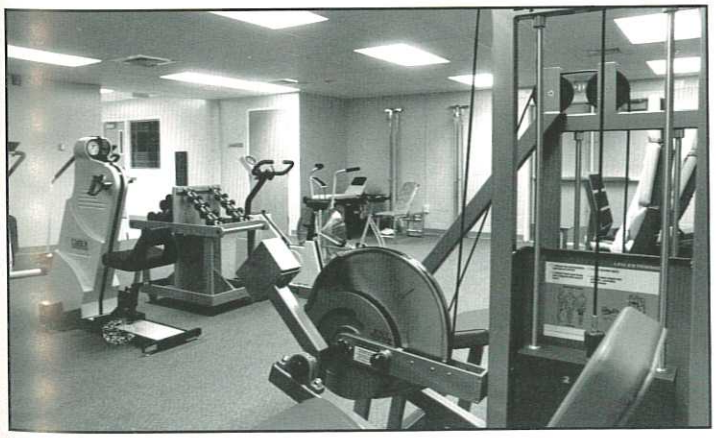
In her first four years, Beth Launiere rebuilt the Utah volleyball program into a program that began to make its mark on the national level. And after the 1993 season, when the Utes set all-time records with 25 wins and a season attendance total of more than 8,200 fans at home matches, the Utah volleyball facility was rebuilt.

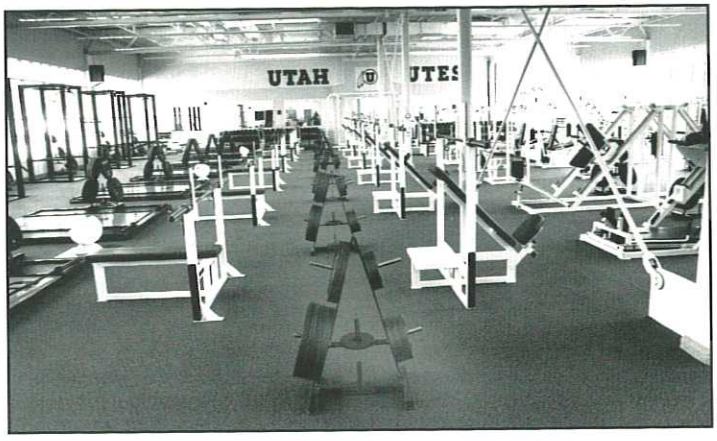
Located in HPER E-101, part of the U. health, physical education and recreation facility directly north of the Jon M. Huntsman Center, Crimson Court underwent a $165,000 renovation. Seating was expanded from 600 to 1,500 with new telescopic plate seats around the entire court. To utilize the full facility, the court direction was rotated 90 degrees and centered within the gymnasium. Also, a new sound system was installed and the floor was refinished with new graphics. The lockerroom facilities were upgraded as well.

In six years at Crimson Court, the Utes have posted a 52-21 record and a .712 winning percentage. Crimson Court was officially dedicated on Sept. 9, 1994. The court was christened with a win over Montana State, and a marathon five-game victory over San Jose State in the Utah Classic. The largest crowd to attend a Utah volleyball match assembled on Nov. 14, 1997, when 1,573 fans saw Utah battle Mountain West Conference rival Brigham Young. The second-largest crowd ever at Crimson Court of 1,569 took in the Utah/BYU match on Nov. 11, 1994. The fourth-largest crowd of 1,389 witnessed Utah stun 16th-ranked BYU on Sept. 22, 1995, sweeping the Cougars before 1,389 fans.

Last season, Utah set an all-time best mark with an average of 770 fans for 12 matches. The match with BYU on Oct. 15 attracted 1,453 fans, the third-largest crowd in school history. Crimson Court is considered one of the finest in the Mountain West Conference—a league that has quickly earned a reputation of one of the strongest in the country.







In addition to Crimson Court, the Utah volleyball team enjoys the finest strength, rehabilitation and training equipment available in the Dee Glen Smith Athletics Center, opened in 1991. Its beautiful, modern, fully-stocked strength room is glass-enclosed and overlooks the majestic Wasatch Mountain range. Complementing the fabulous strength training area is a spacious training room and injury rehabilitation center.

Utah And The NCAA Tournament

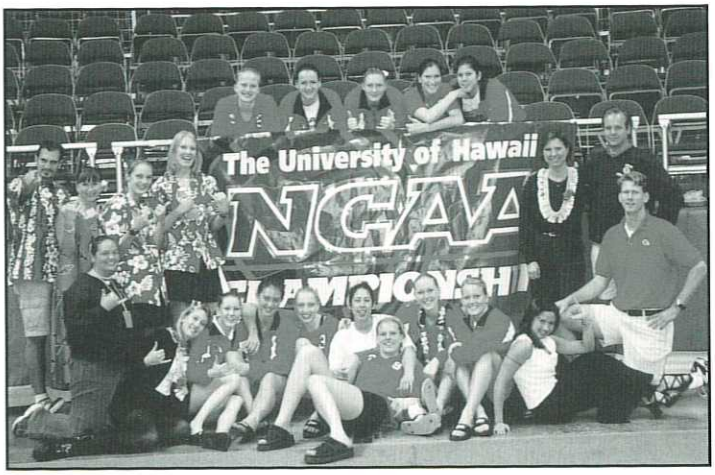
Utah has started a great NCAA tradition. After qualifying for the NCAA tournament for the first time in 1998, the Utes advanced to the second round. Last year, they made a repeat visit to the tournament with identical results. The Utes, seeded No. 9 in the Mountain Region, defeated eighth seeded Colorado in three games (15-10, 15-6, 17-15) in the first round and lost to top-seeded Hawaii in three games (15-11, 15-6, 15-4) in the second round of the NCAA sub regional in Honolulu, Hawaii.

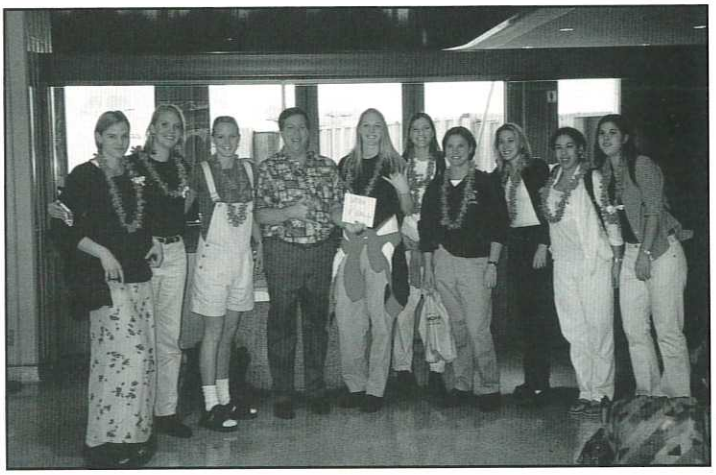
In their first-ever NCAA Tournament in 1998, the Utes received an at large bid as the eighth seed in the Pacific Region. Utah defeated ninth-seeded Illinois State in three games (15-11, 15-12, 15-5) in the first round and lost to top-seeded Nebraska in four games (14-16, 15-4, 15-8, 15-9) in the second round at the sub-regional in Lincoln, Neb.

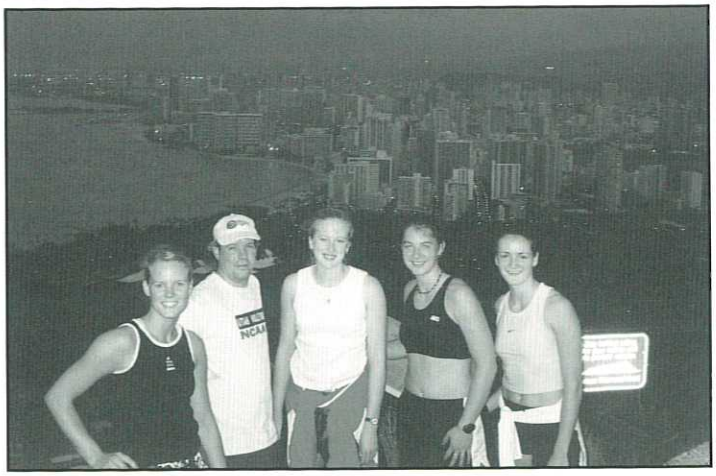
Utah's recent success is just the beginning says head coach Beth Launiere.

"1998 legitimized our program and last season solidified it," said Launiere. "While making the NCAA's is obviously a huge goal, the consistency of getting there is the difference. We expect to make the NCAA Tournament now. Our goal is getting to the next level, which is the 'Sweet Sixteen.'

"Making it to the second round for the second straight year in a row allowed us to start thinking about the next level," says Launiere. Winning with relative ease in the first round both years has given us the confidence of knowing we belong in the NCAA's. Last season, we were just a couple of big wins away from getting a better seed in the NCAA's and not having to play a Hawaii or a Nebraska in the second round. Our team understands that we need to improve our seed during the regular season to take the next step in the NCAA Tournament and that is where we plan to be in 2000," explains Launiere.







Mountain West Conference

The newest conference in the nation has quickly emerged as one of the best. The Mountain West Conference, which officially commenced operation on July 1, 1999, sent three football teams to bowl games and won a national championship (women's cross country) in its first year.

The MWC was conceived on May 26, 1998, when eight teams announced they were breaking away from the Western Athletic Conference. Those teams–Utah, Air Force, Brigham Young, Colorado State, New Mexico, San Diego State, UNLV and Wyoming–brought immediate credibility to their new league.

Mountain West football teams played opponents from every major conference, including five games against Pacific-10 schools, against whom the MWC teams compiled a 4-1 record. Utah, Brigham Young and Colorado State tied for the first MWC football championship and all three were invited to bowl games. Utah won the league's first-ever bowl championship, defeating WAC champion Fresno State (17-16) in the Las Vegas Bowl. Colorado State played Southern Mississippi in the Liberty Bowl and BYU played Marshall in the Motor City Bowl.

In women's volleyball, league champion BYU made it to the NCAA Sweet 16, Colorado State made it to the NCAA Regional semifinals and Utah advanced to the NCAA second round. In cross country, BYU won the league's first national championship. On the soccer field, the Cougars made the NCAA second round.

Utah and BYU won most of the conference championships awarded in the league's first year in 1999-2000, with the Utes capturing the "Big Three" regular season championships (football and men's and women's basketball).

Four MWC teams made the NCAA Basketball Tournament field, two apiece for the men and women. The Ute men made it to the second round, where they lost to eventual national champion Michigan State.

While it is not a conference-sponsored sport, MWC schools also fared well at the 2000 NCAA Women's Gymnastics Championships. Utah finished second in the nation behind UCLA. Brigham Young also qualified for the NCAA Championships, placing 11th.

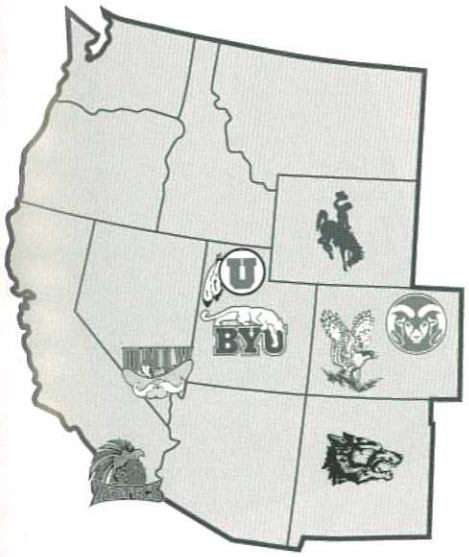
History was on the side of the new league in terms of regional and national success. The eight "breakaway" schools won 15 (of 26) WAC divisional championships in their last year as members in 1998-99. The Utah men's basketball team won five straight WAC titles before departing for the MWC and played in the 1998 NCAA Championship game (losing to Kentucky). The Runnin' Utes have made the NCAA second round eight times and the Sweet 16 four times since 1991. They went to the Elite Eight in 1997 and 1998.

Colorado State became the only WAC women's basketball team ever to advance to the NCAA Sweet 16 (1999). Six MWC volleyball teams have played in the NCAA Tournament at least twice in the last 10 years (Utah, BYU, CSU, New Mexico, San Diego State and Wyoming) and BYU made the NCAA regional finals three times. UNLV won the 1998 NCAA men's golf championship. The Utah and UNLV softball teams have combined to make 12 NCAA Tournament and five College World Series trips in the last decade.

In addition to the 19 MWC-sponsored sports, programs like Utah and BYU have national titles in non-league sports. The Utes have won 10 national championships apiece in women's gymnastics and skiing, while BYU won the 1998 NCAA men's volleyball championship.

Mountain West Conference teams have produced numerous famous professional and Olympic athletes. Some of the more notable stars from MWC schools: NFL players Jamal Anderson and Luther Elliss of Utah, Marshall Faulk of San Diego State; NBA players Keith Van Horn and Andre Miller of Utah; major league baseball players Tony Gwynn and Mark Grace from San Diego State, Wally Joyner from BYU, and Matt Williams and Todd Stottlemyre from UNLV; Colorado State swimmer Amy Van Dyken, who won four Olympic gold medals in 1996, and Olympic gymnast Missy Marlowe of Utah.

From a team perspective, when the eight schools splintered off and created the Mountain West Conference, they took the backbone of the WAC with them. Half were charter members of the WAC when it was founded in 1962: Utah, BYU, New Mexico and Wyoming. Colorado State (1967) and San Diego State (1978) both competed as WAC members for at least two decades, while Air Force (1980) was also a longstanding member. Only UNLV, which joined the WAC in its final expansion in 1996, was a newcomer.



The split from the former 16-team WAC signaled the end to an unwieldy nine-state, five-time zone conference. However, the Mountain West Conference has maintained its geographical diversity. Some of the most beautiful geography in the nation can be found within Mountain West Conference boundaries, including the unparalleled Rocky Mountain range, which borders four MWC schools (Utah, BYU, Air Force and Colorado State). The high plains of Wyoming (elevation 7,000 feet) contrast with the desert city of Las Vegas (the fastest growing metropolitan area in the West), the balmy weather and Pacific Ocean locale of San Diego State and the southwestern flavor of New Mexico.

The Mountain West Conference, an NCAA Division I member for all of its sports, is located in Colorado Springs, Colo., and is under the guidance of commissioner Craig Thompson. One of Thompson's first priorities was to secure a television contract for the conference. On February 1, 1999, ESPN, Inc. and the Mountain West Conference announced a seven-year, $48 million agreement giving ESPN exclusive national television rights to MWC football and men's basketball, beginning in the 1999-2000 academic year.

The Mountain West Conference also secured a three-year contract for two post-season bowl games, starting last year: the Liberty Bowl, which takes the MWC champion, and the Las Vegas Bowl, which gets the second choice.

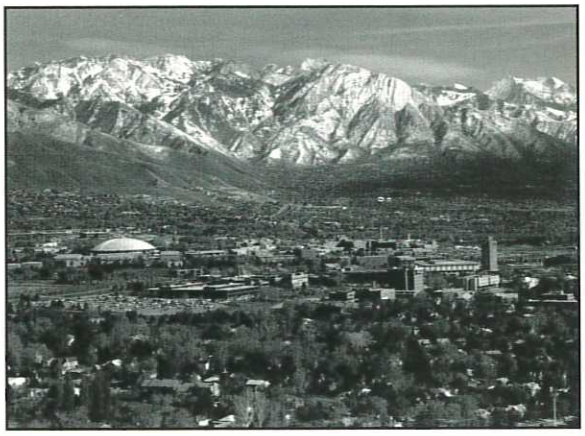
Salt Lake City



Salt Lake City, home to the University of Utah, is one of the most beautiful and vibrant cities in America. Its location between two magnificent mountain ranges and a booming economy made Salt Lake City the natural choice to host the 2002 Winter Olympic Games. So natural, in fact, that it was named host city for the Winter Olympic Games by the largest first-vote margin ever.

Salt Lake City beckons major events like the Olympics with its beauty, location, economic strength, cultural and recreational opportunities and accessibility to the world. Surrounded by awe-inspiring geographical landmarks, Salt Lake offers majestic views in all directions. To the east are the 11,500-foot peaks of the Wasatch Mountains ("mountains of many waters," as named by the Paiute Indians)–the western-most Rocky Mountain range. To the west soar the Oquirrh Mountains (pronounced Oaker and meaning "the shining mountains"). In between is the Great Salt Lake, also known as America's Dead Sea. It is the world's second largest saltwater lake and is nine times saltier than an ocean.

Salt Lake's economy matches its natural wonders in impressiveness. City and State magazine, which is published for local government officials, ranked Salt Lake No. 1 among 195 cities in terms of economic strength. With a metropolitan population of 1,267,745, Salt Lake is the financial, educational, distribution, warehousing, commercial, cultural and communications hub of the Intermountain region. It is also center to world-renowned medical and technological industries. Of the 50 states, Utah has the second-largest concentration of computer software firms, one of the four largest concentrations of biomedical firms and 450 high tech firms employing 13,000 people.

Tourism is also a big employer. Skiing is a $500 million annual industry in Utah–with most of that generated in the Salt Lake area. The 2002 Winter Olympics are estimated to add nearly $2 billion to an already burgeoning Salt Lake economy. Seven world-class ski resorts are located within 30 minutes of Salt Lake International Airport and downtown Salt Lake, with another four less than an hour's drive away.

Cultural activities and sports and recreation also flourish in Salt Lake City. The area enjoys a broad base of cultural and religious diversity, and is home to the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormons), to which some 40 percent of Salt Lake residents belong. Hispanic, Native American and Asian/Pacific residents have higher numbers than the national average, while the African-American community is vibrant and growing. As for culture, Salt Lake has more professional dance companies than any city but New York City and also boasts professional symphony, opera and theater. Fifteen art galleries are within a few minutes' walk of downtown hotels.

Salt Lake will welcome the world to the 2002 Winter Olympic Games.

Professional sports are big in Salt Lake City, with a National Basketball Association franchise (the Utah Jazz), a Women's NBA team (the Utah Starzz), Triple A baseball (the Salt Lake Buzz) and IHL hockey (the Utah Grizzlies). Recreation opportunities abound, as well, with 11 national parks less than a day's drive from Salt Lake City. Fly fishing, backpacking, mountain biking and river running are a part of life in Salt Lake City. In 1995, LIFE Magazine ranked Salt Lake City as one of the top vacation getaways in the country. With four distinct seasons, a humidity average of 15 percent and a vast majority of sunny days, Salt Lake offers pleasant weather conditions year round.

The Weather's Great

237 days of sunshine per year
15 percent humidity average
Average Temperature Highs:

August	90.3
September	79.5
October	66.0
November	50.1
December	38.7
January	37.0
February	43.6
March	52.7
April	61.6
May	72.1
June	83.1
July	92.5

As accessible as recreation and culture are to Salt Lake City residents, the city itself is accessible to the world. Salt Lake International Airport, the 25th busiest in the United States, is less than three hours flying time from half the population of the U.S. There are more than 500 daily arrivals and departures and eight major airlines operate from the airport. It is closer to the heart of the city it serves than any other major airport in the United States.

UTAH VOLLEYBALL HAS POSITIONED ITSELF AS ONE OF THE TOP PROGRAMS IN THE WEST, ON AND OFF THE COURT.

"We take pride in our student-athletes not only maintaining a balance between academics and athletics, but also developing as people and leaders. The level of success the Utes have experienced over the last eight years shows that we have gained the consistency and stability needed to be considered one of the nation's elite programs. Utah volleyball has grown to the point where every year our goal is to be one of the top teams in the west and go further in the NCAA Championships each year."
